GRNY shareholders,

First and foremost, thank you for your continued trust through what's been a dramatic and challenging start to 2025. Investors' resolve was tested this past quarter, serving as a reminder that it's prudent to maintain levelheadedness and anchor in a long-term, research-driven strategy.

Performance Summary

Since its launch on November 7, 2024, the Fundstrat Granny Shots U.S. Large Cap ETF (GRNY) has gained strong momentum, driven by record inflows that have made it one of the fastest growing ETF launches of 2024.

In its first full quarter, GRNY delivered performance aligned with its thematic exposure, despite a broader stock market rout and upheaval in the bond and currency markets. The equal-weighted approach helped reduce concentration risk and provided exposure to a diversified group of sectors.

GRNY's strategy is designed to capitalize on both shorter-term market trends and longer-term structural themes, including cybersecurity, the global labor shortage, and Millennial-driven demographic shifts. As a result, the ETF is overweight in higher-growth companies within the information technology sector and underweight in traditionally defensive sectors such as utilities and consumer staples. While the first quarter presented a challenging environment for technology stocks and a favorable backdrop for defensive sectors, the fund's core investment thesis remains firmly intact.

Investment Strategy & Outlook

We believe the underlying fundamentals of the GRNY holdings remains steadfast, despite recent market volatility that has left several high-conviction names oversold. Our evidence-based research and focus on longer-term structural themes continue to drive our investment approach. While greater clarity or easing of tariff tensions would help improve market sentiment, GRNY's diversified strategy is well-positioned to benefit as market leadership broadens.

The investment team remains vigilant in monitoring macroeconomic developments and retains discretion to adjust theme selection and portfolio positioning as conditions evolve.

Regards,

The Fundstrat Capital Team

“This is not a bear market. It's a trust shock.
But it doesn't mean we can't see a level of clarity that helps restore that trust.”
