Fundstrat Granny Shots US Large Cap & Income ETF

GRNI

INVESTMENT APPROACH

The Fundstrat Granny Shots US Large Cap & Income ETF seeks to provide current income and long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in US large-cap companies, generally those within the top 85% of the US equity market by market capitalization (greater than $27.5 billion as of July 31, 2026).

Securities are chosen for the Fund through top-down fundamental analyses and quantitative screening processes. Through analysis of broad research areas, themes are identified within the research areas. Once a theme is identified, top-down fundamental analyses are conducted to recognize individual companies that could benefit from the identified theme. Individual companies are then quantitatively screened. For a stock to appear in the Fund portfolio, it must appear in two or more themes. Qualifying stocks are then given equal weighting in the final portfolio.

The Fund portfolio will hold approximately 20 to 50 equity positions and generally represent 5 to 10 themes.

Read the prospectus or summary prospectus carefully before investing.

Models and Data Risk. The composition of the Fund's portfolio is heavily dependent on investment models developed by the Sub-Adviser as well as information and data supplied by third parties ("Models and Data").
New Fund Risk. The Fund is a recently organized management investment company with no operating history. As a result, prospective investors do not have a track record or history on which to base their investment decisions.
Equity Market Risk. Common stocks are generally exposed to greater risk than other types of securities, such as preferred stock and debt obligations, because common stockholders generally have inferior rights to receive payment from specific issuers.
GRNI specific risk: Large-Capitalization Investing. The securities of large-capitalization companies may be relatively mature compared to smaller companies and therefore subject to slower growth during times of economic expansion. Large-capitalization companies may also be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges, such as changes in technology and consumer tastes.
GRNI specific risk: Derivatives Risk. Derivatives are financial instruments that derive value from the underlying reference asset or assets, such as stocks, bonds, or funds (including ETFs), interest rates or indexes. The Fund's investments in derivatives may pose risks in addition to, and greater than, those associated with directly investing in securities or other ordinary investments, including risk related to the market, imperfect correlation with underlying investments or the Fund's other portfolio holdings, higher price volatility, lack of availability, counterparty risk, liquidity, valuation and legal restrictions.
